UPDATES

- Key Stakeholders Meeting. The project team hosted a web-meeting with our Key Stakeholders on April 11th, to discuss important next steps for the development of the tool. Key Stakeholders were invited to give final input on the eligibility criteria for providers seeking inclusion, and to ensure the information gathered meets the needs of tribal victims and service providers using the tool.

- Update to Federal Partners. The project team held a web-meeting on April 12th with a small group of federal partners. During the meeting, we shared important project updates and discussed ways to continue effective collaboration across similar federal projects.

- Develop Data Collection Fields and Inclusion Criteria. The Provider Survey Questions and Data Collection Fields document was developed to collect program information from each organization/agency that will be listed in the tool. Additionally, the project team created Inclusion Criteria and Guidelines to guarantee that the tool captures the full-scope of existing services and becomes a reliable resource for victims. Both products were created in consultation with the Office for Victims of Crime and over 100 tribal stakeholders that work with AI/AN survivors of crime and abuse. We would like to extend a big thank you to all of our stakeholders for their collaboration on this effort.
HOW YOU CAN HELP

- Name the tool! As we enter the next phase of the project, we are looking for ideas on what to name the tool. The official name of the grant project is Vision 21: Tribal Victim Services Resource Mapping Tool. The project team needs your help to give this online tool a more compelling web-friendly name. Follow this link to share your ideas.

- Gather information on existing services. Reach out to your networks and create a list of the organizations you work closely with to include in this tool and send to the project email, tribalresourcemapping@ncvc.org.

- Keep us informed. Let us know about other efforts that may be helpful for the project to be aware of and coordinate with in our communities.

- Share the project website: www.victimsofcrime.org/Tribal_Mapping
