The American Correctional Association (ACA) is a professional membership organization composed of individuals, agencies, and organizations involved in all facets of the corrections field, including adult and juvenile services, community corrections, probation and parole, and jails. It has approximately 20,000 members in the United States, Canada, and other nations, as well as over 100 chapters and affiliates representing states, professional specialties, or university criminal justice programs. For more than 140 years, the ACA has been the driving force in establishing national correctional policies and advocating safe, humane, and effective correctional operations. Today, the ACA is the world-wide authority on correctional policy and standards, disseminating the latest information and advances to members, policymakers, individual correctional workers, and departments of correction. The ACA was founded in 1870 as the National Prison Association and became the American Prison Association in 1907. At its first meeting in Cincinnati, the assembly elected Rutherford B. Hayes, then governor of Ohio and later U.S. president, as the first president of the Association. At the 1954 annual Congress of Correction in Philadelphia, the name of the American Prison Association was changed to the American Correctional Association, reflecting the changing philosophy of corrections and its increasingly important role in society.

NSA has been providing law enforcement training and technical assistance for over 72 years in fulfillment of its mission to support and enhance the professionalism of those whose job it is to serve and protect.

Founded in 1976 as a nonprofit organization, the Police Executive Research Forum (PERF) is a police research organization and a provider of management services, technical assistance, and executive-level education to support law enforcement agencies. PERF helps to improve the delivery of police services through the exercise of strong national leadership, public debate of police and criminal justice issues, and research and policy development.

The Rape, Abuse, and Incest National Network is the nation’s largest anti-sexual assault organization. RAINN operates the National Sexual Assault Hotline at 1-800-656-HOPE and the National Sexual Assault Online Hotline at www.rainn.org, and publicizes the hotline’s free, confidential services; educates the public about sexual assault; and leads national efforts to prevent sexual assault and improve services to victims.

Labor Trafficking

has many faces

- Construction worker
- Housekeeper
- Farm worker
- Dishwasher

Across America, men, women, and children are trafficked for their labor. Their employers threaten their lives or loved ones; confiscate their IDs or documents; deny them pay, food, or safe working conditions; or force them to work off illegal debts.

To find out more about labor trafficking and what you can do about it, contact the National Human Trafficking Hotline at 888-373-7888.

Is there Elder Abuse in Your Neighborhood?

Older people can be vulnerable to neglect, abuse, and exploitation—even by relatives and others they trust. We can all do more to help. Check on your older neighbors to see if they are safe, talk to them, and help them stay safe.

If you suspect someone is being neglected, check out the National Adult Protective Services Association at www.napsa-now.org.

Ayudamos a hacer de sus DERECHOS una REALIDAD

Si sufres como víctima del delito, los proveedores de servicios a víctimas pueden ayudarle a mantenerse informado sobre su situación, generar un plan de protección y proporcionar un sitio de seguridad, acompañarle al tribunal, presentar una declaración de daño de cualquier tipo de daño, buscar compensación para víctimas, y asistir con otras maneras de manejar sus derechos después de una maltrato.
