

NCVC Membership

History of NCVC Membership

Membership has been an integral part of the National Center since our founding over 35 years ago. From the beginning, our members have been welcomed as key community members, with segmented degrees of access based on their tier of membership. The National Center originally published a members-only newsletter, called NETWORKS, that shared news, op-eds, and developments in the field. Today, NCVC is excited to revive that tradition through the introduction of the Bulletin for Crime Victim Professionals & Survivors.

Today, in 2021, membership is a community engagement and networking opportunity and a key part of the National Center's diverse community.

The Impact of Your Membership

Your membership is an investment into the quality of the field, the future of victims services, and ultimately, the quality of care and support that survivors receive. It is an active participation in the building of safer, more just communities.

The Benefits of Your Membership

Becoming a member is a fantastic way to expand your impact, professionally develop, network, and share your message with a nationwide audience. You will join a nationwide community of victim rights advocates where you can network and make connections

The community centered policies and best practices that we enact will help to reduce violence, reduce interactions with the criminal justice system and develop an open line of communication between communities and service providers. By doing so, we will begin to lay the foundations for safer communities in the Los Angeles area and beyond.

Membership Deals

Members get perks and discounts, such as $100 off their National Training Institute tickets. This is a more than 10% discount!

Additionally, for a limited time, if you donate to the Building Bridges Project, NCVC's newest project, you will receive a discounted membership!

Now is the perfect time to join NCVC's community by becoming a member.

Becoming a member is a fantastic way to expand your impact, professionally develop, network, and share your message with a nationwide audience.
